VAI and United Computer Group (UCG) Announce System i IVR Partnership

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

VAI (Vormittag Associates, Inc.) and United Computer Group, Inc. (UCG) Announce IBM System i IVR Partnership to Market System i Data Backup & Disaster Recovery Managed Service-VAULT400.

RONKONKOMA, NEW YORK, USA; BRECKSVILLE, OH, USA; (January 17, 2007) VAI, an IBM Premier Business Partner providing flexible software solutions combined with an array of advanced applications, and United Computer Group, Inc. (UCG) announce the formation of a partnership between the two companies to market UCG's VAULT400 Data Backup and Disaster Recovery Managed Service. Visit www.vault400.com/vai for additional information.

"We look forward to our partnership with UCG to market its' VAULT400 Solution to our existing and future customers. VAULT400 is an online backup and recovery service for IBM System i users, as well as to Windows, Oracle, SQL, and AIX users. VAULT400 based technology is currently installed at over 8,500 firms nationwide," said Kevin Beasley, CIO, VAI.

VAULT400 backs up an entire organization's business-critical data to VAULT400's secure data center so that data is always available and accessible for immediate online recovery. The service conducts automatic backups without human intervention and lets administrators manage multiple online backup and recovery processes from a single workstation. VAULT400 takes a point-in-time backup during each scheduled session, and in the event a restore is needed, VAULT400 can provide the data from any specific backup.

Other features include end-to-end encryption of data while in-transit or storage, backup of only changed data blocks, optimized backups for Microsoft Exchange environments, and comprehensive reporting. In addition, the VAULT400's System i Agent works in concert with VAULT400's Director feature to protect native Objects, DB2 databases, IFS data, and system data.

"We are extremely pleased to enter into this agreement with VAI because of their reputation as an international software organization whose products are recognized worldwide as premier solutions for a variety of industries. Indeed, we believe that VAI and UCG's VAULT400 will succeed in obtaining many joint customers, both from VAI's current System i installed base, as well as from new companies looking to cost effectively secure their corporate data," said James Kandrac, President, United Computer Group, Inc.
